Walter Weathers Republican Sweep In 15th District

Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower led the Republican party to an unprecedented victory sweep in Monroe County yesterday. Every office save one was safely in the GOP column with complete, but unofficial returns early this morning.

Sole exception was the powerful run made by Rep. Francis E. Walter, D., Easton, who carried Monroe County 7,886 to 7,127 and won out over J. Russell Craig, R., Bethlehem in Carbon and Northampton county to go back to Washington for his 11th term.

In the only other race with a local aspect—the State Assembly contest—Rep. John S. Shotwell, Effort, Pa., Republican was a decisive victor over Van D. Yetter Jr., Marshalls Creek farm machinery dealer.

Shotwell polled 7,687 votes to 6,357 for Yetter.

The Eisenhower swell was one of the most dramatic GOP presidential victories this country has seen. The Republican nominee was given 9,419 votes to 5,715 for Stevenson.

Tremendous interest in the election brought out an unofficial total of 15,481 voters—about 85 per cent of the total registration of 16,379. Thus, a new record was set. Highest previous record was 83 per cent in 1944.

Voting machines in 14 districts brought about 55 per cent of the vote in early. The remaining paper ballot districts demonstrated a smart return, Paradise being the last at 3 a. m.

The 20 paper ballot districts were given an opportunity by Monroe County commissioners to vote on whether they would use voting machines next year.

All but two of the 20 districts gave solid approval to voting machines. Sole exceptions were Price and Tunkhannock.

Monroe County voters were just as solidly against the proposed constitutional amendment which would have allowed the state to take over the bonded indebtedness of the General State Authority and the State Bridge and Highway Authority.

Only one district was unofficially reported to have favored the amendment 93 to 89.

Total vote on the amendment was 2,931 No and 1,326 Yes.

All the state-wide offices were carried in Monroe County by the Republicans, but with slightly lesser majorities, than the Eisenhower margin.

Congressman Walter, the Easton Democrat is the oldest Pennsylvania member of Congress in point of service.

Walter will be the ranking Democrat on the House Un-American Activities Committee in the new Congress. He is also the second highest ranking Democrat on the House Judiciary Committee.

As a member of the Judiciary committee he was co-author of the Walter-McCarran Immigration Bill. Sen. McCarran (D-Nev.) is chairman of the Senate Judiciary Committee.

The Immigration bill, which became law over President Truman's veto, was criticized during the presidential campaign by Truman and by Adlai Stevenson, the Democratic presidential nominee. They denounced the law as unfair to residents of Southern Europe.

Stevenson reportedly snubbed Walter during Stevenson's campaign swing through Pennsylvania. Walter, however, denied he had been coolly received by the Democratic nominee.

Republicans Elected To Assembly Posts

Bangor — Northampton County sent three Republican assemblymen to the State General Assembly yesterday in a close race.

Elected to the Assembly were Republicans Peiffer (25,294 votes), Ide (24,665 votes) and Rogat (24,282 votes).

The defeated Democratic candidates for the offices were Gaffney (22,976), Paecholi (22,210) and Good (22,184).

Republicans Triumph In Pennsylvania

Philadelphia (AP) — Republican Dwight D. Eisenhower apparently captured Pennsylvania's 32 electoral votes in Tuesday's election and carried the Republican state-wide ticket to victory with him, on the basis of returns early today from 83 per cent of the state's voting precincts.

The count from 7,027 of the 8,472 voting precincts gave the Republican presidential nominee a 178,811 lead.

The figures were:
Eisenhower 1,904,682.
Adlai E. Stevenson 1,725,871.

In the U. S. Senate race, incumbent Republican Edward Martin, pulled far in front of his Democratic opponent, Guy K. Bard.

With 7,008 districts counted—Martin's tally was 1,831,504 to Bard's 1,723,293.

Reached at his Washington, Pa., home the 73-year-old former governor of the Keystone State said: "I'm certainly mighty pleased at the great victory of Gen. Eisenhower."

Of his own race he added, "I think I'm going to win by a satisfactory vote."

In other state-wide contests with 6,935 of the 8,472 district complete, these were the results:

Supreme Court, John C. Arnold (R) 1,811,176; Harry M. Montgomery (D) 1,709,201.

State treasurer, Weldon B. Heyburn (R) 1,814,511; George M. Leader (D) 1,694,417.

Auditor general, Charles R. Barber (R) 1,812,388; Genevieve Blatt (D) 1,677,313.

For the first four hours of the tallying Stevenson marched ahead with Philadelphia and Allegheny Counties rolling up wide margins for the Democratic candidates.

Philadelphia delivered a 160,000 majority for Stevenson with its count completed. In 1948 the Quaker City gave Democratic candidate Harry S. Truman a margin of 6,700.

Thomas E. Dewey won the state by a 149,000-vote margin.

In 1948 Allegheny County gave Truman a 73,009 lead and today with two-thirds of its 1120 districts completed, it appeared the margin for Stevenson would be smaller.

The count in 786 precincts showed Stevenson leading by 38,064 ballots.

Outside Philadelphia and Allegheny Counties, Stevenson appeared to have carried only six other counties out of the state's 67.

Post-Election Challenge!

One of the greatest presidential campaigns in American history is over. Its significance is not bound by the borders of the United States but reaches to every corner of the earth in a period critical to every citizen of the world.

Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, swept into the most powerful office in the world, faces a responsibility so great it is difficult to measure by any standard.

Because of the gravity of the problems confronting not only the American people, but ALL people, Gen. Eisenhower must have the solid support and loyalty of every American.

We believe Americans will respond to this challenge as solidly as they respond to the challenge of this election.

Eisenhower Pledges He Will Never Give Short Weight To Responsibilities Of Office

New York (AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, swept to a smashing victory by America's voters, promptly pledged last night that as president he never will give "short weight" to his new responsibilities.

Addressing a wildly cheering crowd at his campaign headquarters, the Republican president-elect told his audience he had sent his Democratic opponent, Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson of Illinois, the following telegram:

"I thank you for your courteous and generous message. Recognizing the intensity of the difficulties that lie ahead, it is clearly necessary that men and women of good will of both parties forget the political strife through which we have passed and devote themselves to the single purpose of a better future. This, I believe, they will do."

Eisenhower's telegram was in reply to one he received a short time earlier from Stevenson, conceding the election.

The general's appearance in the packed grand ballroom of the Commodore Hotel touched off a thunderous ovation which went on for several minutes before he was able to speak.

Smiling happily, Eisenhower moved to the crowd again and again.

The general said that it was "a privilege to say that this is a day of dedication rather than triumph" and added that he was "indeed as humble as I am proud of the decision" of the American people.

Stating that he recognized the weight of the responsibility of his new office, Eisenhower pledged:

"I shall never in my service in Washington give short weight to this responsibility."

Severe Quake Churns Pacific Tidal Waves

Honolulu (AP)—A thundering 13-foot fall of water, powered by one of recorded history's mightiest earthquakes 3,500 miles away, struck the evacuated northwest shore of Oahu in the Hawaiian Islands yesterday.

It was the fourth and largest tidal wave to hit Hawaii in little more than an hour.

The waves were built up by a seismic shock that raced through the Pacific at more than 400 miles an hour from a point in the Sea of Okhotsk between Siberia and Japan.

The shock also threw nine-foot waves at Adak in the Aleutians and Midway in the Central Pacific.

The 13-foot wave on Oahu knocked down telephone lines and bowed over a U. S. Navy photographer but he was reported uninjured.

In Honolulu Harbor, on the Oahu southern shore and in the lee of the seismic shock, rising water came a cement barge from its moorings. The barge struck the Matson freighter Hawaiian Packer a glancing blow amidships and caved in 25 feet of the freighter's rail and stanchions.

Eisenhower's Landslide Ousts Democrats After Long White House Rule

By The Associated Press

Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower won the presidency by a landslide early today and brought to a crashing end the 20-year era of Democratic political reign.

Eisenhower even split the Southland.

Down to galling defeat went Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson of Illinois. The Democratic nominee conceded it was all over at 1:44 a. m.

Associated Press returns at 3:45 a. m. showed the popular vote:

Eisenhower 21,576,785
Stevenson 17,914,766

"My fellow citizens have made their choice . . . and I gladly accept it," Stevenson said.

Praising Eisenhower as a great leader in time of war, the beaten governor read a statement at Springfield, Ill., urging all Americans to unite behind the winner.

"I urge you all to give Gen. Eisenhower the support he will need," Stevenson said.

"With a united people, with faith in democracy . . . we shall move forward with God's guidance . . . in freedom and dignity and peace."

As Stevenson spoke the fateful words of concession, this was the scope of the Eisenhower sweep:

Ike had ripped Virginia and Florida away from the traditional "Solid South" and was leading in Texas and Tennessee. He had captured Oklahoma and Maryland along the border and was out front in Missouri.

New York, New Jersey, Ohio—all big vote states—were solidly in the GOP column. So were Illinois and California. Michigan and Pennsylvania were moving in that direction.

It all added up to an Eisenhower lead in 39 states with 442 electoral votes out of 531.

At one mighty blow Eisenhower had demolished political ramparts which had securely sheltered Franklin D. Roosevelt and Harry S. Truman while they built their "New Deal" and "Fair Deal."

For Eisenhower, a professional soldier whose name became almost legend in his lifetime, the victory, in its way, was as great and overwhelming as any he ever carved out on the battlefields of Europe.

Never before had general "Ike" tried for public office. Then in a single effort he vaulted all the way to the White House. In politics, the man with the magic smile, the cry that it was time for a change, the promise to go to Korea, started at the pinnacle.

With him to victory Eisenhower carried youthful Richard M. Nixon, California senator and exposé of Alger Hiss. Nixon beat out Sen. John Sparkman of Alabama for the vice presidency.

Despite Eisenhower's one-sided victory, it still was too early to say what kind of a Congress he would have.

The Republicans so far showed a net gain of five seats in the House. But the Democrats were ahead, 138 to 100, because in many Southern districts Democratic congressmen had no opposition. It takes 218 to control the House.

President-Elect Eisenhower

National Election In Brief

By The Associated Press
The nation's election picture at 2:30 a. m. today:

Eisenhower elected president in landslide. His popular vote was 18,532,335 to 13,678,626 for Stevenson in 80,155 of 146,374 precincts.

Eisenhower led in 39 states with 442 electoral votes; Stevenson in 9 with 89. Key states in the North fell to the Republican candidate along with several Southern states.

Senate: 35 races; Democrats elected 6. Holdovers 35, total 41. Republicans elected 11, holdovers 26, total 37. Needed to control 49. Republicans gained two seats from Democrats in Connecticut and Maryland. Democrats leading in 7 and Republicans in 11 undecided races.

House: 435 races; Democrats elected 156. Republicans 119. Needed to control 218.

Governors: 39 races; Democrats elected 6. Republicans 7.

In the Senate the picture looked like this:

If every Democrat and Republican who was ahead actually won out the lineup would be 48 to 48. This counts Sen. Wayne Morse of Oregon in the Republican column.

An early Eisenhower supporter, he later deserted the Republicans and campaigned for Stevenson.

Democratic Sen. William Benton of Connecticut was beaten by a Republican.

GOP Sen. Joseph McCarthy was well ahead in Wisconsin and Sen. William Jenner won in Indiana. They had been the targets of heaviest Democratic fire.

Prominent songwriters who were behind: Sen. Henry Cabot Lodge (R) of Massachusetts and Sen. Ernest W. McFarland (D) of Arizona.

To Eisenhower, his own campaign was a "Great Crusade" against Communism and corruption against a "mess in Washington," against inflation and high living costs, and an administration he said had "robbed" the people of their respect for government.

Throughout the land, in 51,000 miles of rugged, vigorous campaigning, the Republican nominee carried the banner of that crusade, pleading with the people to join him. And in probably unprecedented millions that is what they did.

For all across America, voters swarmed to the polling places yesterday in seemingly record numbers.

Interest in the election and actual balloting appeared to be at an all-time peak. A 111-year-old blind man was carried to the polls in Rochester, N. Y. A Tarentum, Pa., woman rode to the polling place in an ambulance six hours after her baby son was born.

Carrigg Beats Rep. O'Neill For Congress

Newfoundland—Wayne and Pike Counties gave thumping majorities to Joseph L. Carrigg, Republican nominee for Congress in the recently created district of Wayne, Pike, Susquehanna, Wyoming, Sullivan and Lackawanna counties.

His Democratic opponent, Congressman Harry P. O'Neill of Lackawanna County lost his seat by an unofficial 10,000 votes.

Wayne County poured out its traditional GOP strength for Carrigg and all other Republican candidates. It gave Carrigg 8,775 votes to O'Neill's 2,426.

Pike County rolled up 3,575 votes for Carrigg to 1,433 for O'Neill.

Republicans in Wayne gave Eisenhower 8,832 to 2,222 for Stevenson.

For assemblyman Art Wall, Republican nominee, was given 8,563 to 2,507 for Joseph Parker, Democrat.

Pike County's Republican machine produced 3,781 for Eisenhower to 1,272 for Stevenson. The entire GOP ticket carried by similar majorities.

Rep. August Metz, Republican incumbent, polled 3,365 votes to McDonald's 1,693 votes.

30-Foot Chimney Moved To Opposite Side Of Dwelling

Cherry Lane—You've heard of the power to move mountains. Well, here's a story of the patience and skill it took to move a 30-foot chimney from one side of a house to the other.

Faced with predictions of a severe winter, and not satisfied with the performance of their brick chimney in past cold months, Mr. and Mrs. Theodore P. Sebring and members of their family decided to solve the situation Saturday.

It was felt draft conditions were better on one side of their home and at 8 a.m. Saturday the work started. Bracing the chimney with large jacks, topped at the peak with a screw jack, the initial movement was experimental—to dislodge bricks from the base of the chimney and test the strength.

Once a few bricks were removed a heavy steel plate replaced the bricks and the same procedure was followed on the other side of the chimney's base. With the steel plate intact, the Sebrings greased long boards the same distance from the ground to the plate and gradually slid the brick structure from the building.

By 4 p.m. Saturday the chimney had been moved half the distance around the back of the residence and the workers retired for the day.

But Sunday at 8 a.m. they were back again and inched the

Bangor Man Drops Dead After Voting

Bangor—One of this community's first voters in yesterday's election returned home after casting his ballot and died unexpectedly.

Herbert Spangenberg, 61, prominent in religious and civic affairs succumbed of a heart attack at 7:30 a.m., according to the report of Martin Bechtel, Northampton County coroner.

Mr. Spangenberg was found by his wife unconscious in the bathroom after she also came back from voting. Dr. Nicholas Romano was called to the home at 128 S. Second St. and pronounced Mr. Spangenberg dead.

A graduate of Bangor High School and Bethlehem Business College, Mr. Spangenberg was associated with Bangor Lumber Co. for 44 years as a bookkeeper and architect. During World War One he served as a member of the Selective Service Board here.

Active in Masonry, he was a member of Bangor Lodge 565, F. and A.M., and a past master of that lodge; also a member and past grand high priest of Bangor Chapter, R.A.M.

He also was a member of Bangor Presbyterian Church, clerk of the session and an elder of the congregation, and a teacher in the Sunday school.

Mr. Spangenberg was the son of Mrs. Lucinda Messinger Spangenberg, of Bangor, and the late William Spangenberg. Surviving, in addition to his mother, are his wife, the former Jennie Oyer; one grandson, William Spangenberg Jr., of Bangor; a brother, Arthur, of Tatum, and two sisters, Mrs. Russell Kaufman, of Easton Rd. and Mrs. Arland Smith, of Easton. His only son, William, died in 1948.

Funeral services will be held Saturday at 2 p.m. in the Hough funeral home here. The Rev. Richard D. Rettew, pastor of the local Presbyterian Church will officiate. Interment will be in St. John's Cemetery here.

A Free People Speaks!

The American people—turning out in the most massive numbers in the history of their nation—yesterday demonstrated to the world how a free people in a free democracy react to the challenges in their own country and the challenges of the world.

Today these same people, after having exercised their individual rights and freedoms in a dramatic election of the administrators of their democracy, stand before the world the actual rulers of their country.

Woven in this free democratic pattern is a solidarity of purpose which today is translated to a solidarity as a people prepared to meet the challenges of their domestic and international problems.

We are, regardless of faith—political, religious or racial—more solidly united than ever before. This by-product of yesterday's election is one of the most important things to come out of a presidential election such as we have just experienced.

We believe it is the one great thing which will destroy our enemies in this nation and those abroad. It is the thing which will keep alive the hope of those portions of the world which have been suppressed by our common enemy—Communism.

Jets for the Airlines

First American airline company to order jet models is Pan American World Airways, whose president announced this week that three British DeHavilland Comets have been contracted for, with delivery to be made in 1956.

This interesting development means that, unless an American aircraft manufacturer can turn out a jet-powered airliner completely tested and ready for passengers within the next four years, we shall see foreign aircraft used by domestic airline companies for the first time.

Washington Report

—by Fulton Lewis, Jr.

Washington. — As a final act of vindictiveness before retiring to Independence, Missouri, President Truman has instructed his political henchmen to ruin Senator Joseph R. McCarthy.

It is perhaps the final order of importance to be issued by the President that anyone will pay attention to. The Wisconsin senator is far more of a threat to Mr. Truman's party than he is to the President himself. So the frame-up should not be difficult. It has been successful before.

In many respects the presidential order on McCarthy is an adequate going away present from the Chief Executive to his country. It typifies the level of his political thinking and of his sincerity about the nation's interests. It reveals that Pendergast is a corrosive substance, able to destroy all elements of statesmanship that any man should normally acquire during seven years in the highest political office in the world.

McCarthy as an individual is less important than the symbol of anti-Communism he represents. Mr. Truman is determined to destroy that symbol, as he and his assistants have set about to destroy every other man or woman who has publicly fought against Communism in the government. If he succeeds, the will of free men around the world will suffer for it, that, of course, is of little importance to the retiring President, whose gnawing insistence on political revenge is an outstanding characteristic. We have paid too high a price for it.

Mr. Truman says he wants to write history when he retires. I hope his publishers will do his character justice when they send out publicity blurbs about his book. It should be noted, for instance, that Mr. Truman has defended thieves, five percenter and political fixers; that he refused to clean Communists out of his administration or let Congress have the records so that it could be done. It should be noted, in assaying the man and his administration, that he conducted a government by crony and that the henchmen who advised him are of the lower order of mankind.

In saying goodbye to Mr. Truman, it is essential to note that his administration might have been different had he the integity of his wife and the charm of his daughter. Since he has neither, it must be said in sadness that the country is poorer for his lack of those qualities. He is simply not a great man, but instead one who has mixed the dignity of the office of President of the United States into the muck of ward boss politics where congenial liars are a dime a dozen.

Some of Mr. Truman's friends are contemplating the erection of a historical museum in the President's memory once he retires from Washington. I cannot quarrel with their sentiments, but simply sympathize with the promoters. For if the American people are wiser now than when President Roosevelt departed, there will be much less in the way of official papers to fill the shelves or encase in everlasting glass display cases.

Some official papers undoubtedly will be burned between now and inauguration day. Mr. Truman plans to take the rest of what he calls his state papers to the museum in Missouri.

An emergency committee to prevent him from doing so should be formed forthwith. I suggest one from the American Bar Association. It should engage him by court order from removing even a scrap from the White House until a squad of politically wise Estorians and agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation have had a chance to sift his state papers.

Any documents the President has accumulated, with the exception of his personal correspondence, belong to the government. We let Roosevelt cart away train loads of papers, so indigent sons could set up a semi-carnival and charge admission for inspecting them. Those damaging to the late President's reputation remain unspiced. So it will be with Mr. Truman. He wants to write history, for cash, and undoubtedly he will need all the official documents that passed through his hands during his seven years in office. He can inspect them, just as any other citizen is entitled to do, in government archives.

If we let him take them to Missouri, Americans will be forced to go there to write the inside record of his administration. It is beneath the dignity of the American people to have to do so.

In time of peace, international usage forbids display of the flag of one nation above that of another.

The name "Winnipeg" means "murky waters."

There is a certain amount of justice in this situation, for much as we would prefer to see American products of the newest type flying over our nation and on overseas routes, it must be remembered that with few exceptions every major airline in the world is equipped with American aircraft and engines.

One has but to spend a few hours at the big international airport near New York to see the Douglas, Boeing, and Lockheed products landing and taking off, with the markings of many foreign airlines on their sleek sides and wings.

But the British are ahead of us on jet airliner development, and even though many of our major domestic lines has expressed great interest in eventual utilization of the jet type, it does not appear that our own manufacturers will be able to get an acceptable model into production before the British can deliver their planes to us.

Incidentally, problems involving the use of jets on transatlantic schedules are many and complex, including upper-air wind effects and the serious matter of landing jets on ice-covered runways. However, in the years before the transatlantic runs become commonplace, these problems are expected to be met.

Love Letters of the Week

It is silly to say there are two sides to every question. More often than not there are a half dozen. George S. Schuyler, the noted Negro columnist of the Pittsburgh Courier, has some comment on the Josephine Baker-Person affair, which probably contains too much objectivity for Borey Yellow's microphone. For Schuyler's right of public comment and our right of private satisfaction, here are some excerpts.

"Now that Robert Ruark has led the public uproar over Josephine Baker's love feast with bloody director Juan Peron of hapless Argentina and her outrageous falsifications about the USA race question, I presume the original hepter on this variety artist may be permitted a further word. The news that she had dramatically signed the guest book at ruthless Eva's temporary tomb with the words, 'Your sister, Josephine, who loved you dearly,' evoked from me only a slightly amused 'Ho Hum!' Likewise did her revelation of all the lynchings she had 'personally seen' in the U.S.A., probably during the slight intervals when she was not getting $20,000 weekly to prance across the boards in exaggerated Paris creations crying 'I love you. I love you all!'

"It was with amusement on the grin side that I recalled the hurricane of denunciation that lashed me when I publicly stated the significant sequence of events in the lady's off-stage career. I recollected how certain Negro 'leaders' picketed the Stork Club over her 'discrimination' which two official investigations later exploded sky high, and which NAACP lawyers admitted were guiltily taken in but never attained sufficient moral stature to admit it. I remember how I had predicted in the Courier (May 5, 1951) that she 'may be making her last visit to the U.S.A.' . . . A fine artist is being misled by some of her fellow-traveling advisers. My only error was my generous presumption that she was being misled. Now she is hobnobbing with the bloodiest dictator outside the Iron Curtain. Her dupes will kindly line up on the right (for a change!) and one by one soak their heads under the faucet!

"Of course, currying favor with oppressors is not a new role for her. An Associated Press dispatch of Oct. 1, 1935 quoted her as announcing that she was on the side of Mussolini against the Ethiopians, who were then being bombed and gassed by the heroic legions of fascism, which later surrendered in droves to the British. (Note by W. W.: When I reported this first the N. Y. Post and many other careless reporters said it wasn't true. Later I revealed that the Oct. 1, 1935 N. Y. Post published it. But Post editor Webster kept printing that it wasn't true. In short, he doesn't believe what he reads in his own paper. Practically making it unanimous.)

"One singularly unpublished incident during the financially successful Josephine Baker Day staged by the New York NAACP on May 20, 1951, was its picketing the African Nationalist Movement. Why? Well, according to the pickets' signs and to James R. Lawson, the Movement's lead-

ASIANIC PLAGUE

Looking At Life —by Erich Brandeis

When Yakov A. Malik, replaced chief delegate to the United Nations, left for home, the reporters asked him to make a farewell statement.

He complied with a Russian proverb: "It is very difficult for mountains to meet, but not for men."

As is usual with Russian statesmen and diplomats, he did not explain what he meant by what he said.

So it is left to us to put our own interpretation on it. Several of the United Nations correspondents told me that Malik personally wasn't such a bad egg at all. Sometimes they almost suspected him of being a human being rather than a robot.

However, I do not want to fall into the same trap with the man who called Joe Stalin "good old Joe" and professed to like him.

So I'll let it go at that. However, about this business of it being difficult for mountains to meet.

I suppose what Malik meant was to call the difficulties between Russia and the United States, the lady had won her French war-time decoration by turning over to the French authorities in Morocco a list of some 150-odd leaders of the Istiglal (independence) party. They were promptly nabbed, juggled and I believe some were guillotined, thus temporarily crippling this movement to which even the Sultan belonged.

"There was a mass meeting in a Red-frequented theatre which she reportedly financed and which was packed with Commies, and where her World Cultural Association Against Discrimination was formed. Suspiciously, branches immediately sprang up all over Mexico and Central America in time for delegations to carry signs in May Day, 1952 parades. Who could have established them so quickly? Before me is a large illustrated clipping from Impresna Popular, the Daily Worker of Rio de Janeiro, dated Sept. 5, 1952, with big headlines enthusiastically reporting the lady's 'vehement denunciation' of racism in the U.S.A. Know who organized it? Go to the head of the class.

ARE THEY AMERICANS?

Americans employed by the United Nations take an oath of loyalty to the United Nations. The question then arises whether an American can take an oath of loyalty and obedience to an international body which may sit in judgment of the United States and which can vote against the United States should a situation arise.

This is the oath: "I solemnly swear to exercise, in all loyalty, discretion and conscience, the functions entrusted to me as a member of the international service of the United Nations; to discharge those functions and regulate my conduct with the interests of the United Nations only in view, and not to seek or accept instructions in regard to the performance of my duty from any government or authority external to the organization."

The last line of that oath specifies that an American citizen employed by the United Nations may not be instructed by his own government; in a manner he is superior to his own government. What happens to the minds of those Americans when Vishinsky calls Acheson a liar?

In his testimony before the McCarran Committee, Alfred J. Van Tassel, an American employed by the United Nations, protested against the hearings "because I feel they will create tremendous resentments against the United States throughout the world, by the countries of Asia, Africa and Europe.

This angered Senator Homer Ferguson who asked:

"Do you mean to say that if a committee of the United States Senate wants to find out whether or not citizens, no matter what their jobs may be, are Communists, whether they are engaged in subversive activities, that we have no right to do it, and that other nations, our allies, will resent that?"

Now, the importance of this colloquy is that actually Americans employed by the United Nations have ceased to think of themselves as American citizens. They make a distinction between those who are members of missions like Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt or Warren Austin, who may be patriots if they choose, with staff members who owe their allegiance to the international body and therefore are not free to be patriots. Van Tassel put it clearly in this language:

"... there are the individual delegations to the United Nations which represent their individual governments, and I think that the governments are perfectly—any government is perfectly on sound ground to insist upon whatever standards they choose as the measure of loyalty in selecting those members of the missions. I don't think that that principle obtains at all for the Secretariat of the United Nations, where I think the entire question is whether or not you uphold the oath to the United Nations."

Few Americans can understand this language. They have been reared to believe that an American owes allegiance to the United States of America and to no other country and to no other body. Yet, here is a group of our citizens who have occupationally become separated from their own people. They have, while living within their own country, accepted a dual loyalty which has become incompatible with the interests of the United States.

In the case of Van Tassel, a third loyalty became evident. It appears in this colloquy:

"Mr. Morris. Are you presently a member of the Communist Party?"

"Mr. Van Tassel. I decline to state, sir, on the basis of the protection afforded by the Fifth Amendment."

Every Communist is a Russian agent who owes his loyalty to the Kremlin. This is true of a Communist in every country in the world. Van Tassel does not deny that he is a Communist; his testimony, in effect, is that it will incriminate him if he denies it. As it is not a crime to be a member of the Communist Party, in the United States such discrimination can only come from perjury. Should an American hold a position in an international body of which the United States is a member, who cannot tell the truth lest it incriminate him?

As one reads the testimony before the McCarran Committee, it becomes increasingly distressing that a man like Van Tassel, whose family has been in this country 300 years, should have this view of divided loyalty. It is frightening.

Try And Stop Me

—by Bennet Cerf

Jimmy Shea reports that a motorist was finally handed a ticket for "double-parking" on upper Broadway. The cop asked the offender, "Didn't you see the sign saying 'Fine for double-parking'?" The motorist answered, "That I did, and I thought it was a pretty good place myself."

A railroad claim agent was teaching his wife to drive when the brakes suddenly failed on a steep downhill grade. "I can't stop!" she shrieked. "What'll I do?" "Brace yourself," advised her husband, "and try to hit something cheap."

A Kentucky doctor, testing a hill boy's mental capacities for the local draft board asked, "What would you say is the difference between a little boy and a dwarf?" "Might be a heap of difference," allowed the hill boy. "Such as?" encouraged the doctor. "The prospective G.I. drawled, 'Wal that dwarf might be a girl.'"

Nearly half of the non-farm homes in the United States that are occupied by their owners carry mortgages.

Hollywood—James Bowie, 1799-1836, was a hero who helped Texas win independence from Mexico and died at the Alamo. But as played by Alan Ladd in "The Iron Mistress," he spends his time knife-fighting, making money, and paying court to Virginia Mayo and Phyllis Kirk.

This is a long, handsomely staged, tiresome, occasionally gory film. Bowie is represented as designing the frontiersman's famous knife, with single edge and curved tip, that bears his name. The picture's title refers to his favorite weapon. But an encyclopedia says James Bowie's brother Rezin, played in the film by Richard Carlyle, is reputed to have invented the blade.

Bowie is shown coming out of the backwoods of Louisiana to New Orleans. There he falls in love with a rich, beautiful, and fickle belle, Miss Mayo. He becomes involved in various sword duels (Bowie sticks to his knife) and in gambling, land deals, and a race-horse venture.

After killing eight men because of Miss Mayo, he decides she wasn't worth the bloodshed and marries instead Miss Kirk, the daughter of a Spanish official.

Ladd, a nice guy personally and one of the boxoffice's best friends, is still a pretty wooden actor. This time he exhibits a

All Districts Of Monroe County Report Heavy Balloting

Get-Out-Vote Drive Meets With Success

The amazing drive of voters in Monroe County had one of its best examples in Middle Stroud voting district—where voting machines were in play for the first time in history. Only about 175 voters failed to cast a ballot in that district.

Out of a possible perfect score of 1,412, some 1,237 persons went to the voting machine to cast a vote yesterday.

The other voting machine district of comparable voting strength—the veteran Barrett voting machine district—show 1,091 persons voting out of a possible perfect score of 1,347.

So went the pattern down to tiny Price, which incidentally cast against voting machines yesterday—where 61 voted out of a possible perfect score of 98 registered voters.

Stroudsburg's Fourth Ward found 574 out of a possible 682 voting.

Best rundown on how many did, how many didn't and why came from Delaware Water Gap. Here's what happened there:

Out of 235 eligible voters 286 voted. Six were ill and three were out of town. That about told the Water Gap story.

Monroe County voters wore "red-white-and-blue" badges of good citizenship yesterday.

The only requirement for wearing the "badge" was that the citizen perform his duty to himself, his family and his nation. No blood sacrifices were involved, although men had died and bled before so that each man and woman who wore the badge might exercise his privilege.

When the resident left his home yesterday and went to the polls, he entered the secret booth and made his choice for a series of offices—ranging from president of the United States to assemblyman.

As he walked out of the booth, he was handed a small tag by the slogan—"I Have Voted! Have You?"—printed in blue letters on a white background.

The tag, shaped like a shield, was being used as a reminder to persons who had not voted to go to the polls.

A large supply of the tags—provided as a public service by The Daily Record and radio station WVPO—had been delivered early to most voting districts. Members of the Junior Womens Club were on hand to pass them out in 13 districts.

In some outlying voting precincts, however, the tags were handed out by cooperative election board members.

Election officials in township voting places began calling The Daily Record, requesting a supply of the voting tags.

As employees of The Daily Record and WVPO rushed the tags to the outlying districts, it became apparent that the election officials had acted in the face of public demand.

One election officer said he had received requests and demands for the "badges" from the time the polls opened until the supply arrived.

All over the county the response to the "get out the vote" drive seemed "phenomenal." One election official—eyeing early morning turnouts—predicted a "record vote" in this area.

In pooling their efforts in the "I Have Voted" campaign The Daily Record, WVPO and the Junior Womens Club members were engaged in an entirely non-partisan drive to get voters to exercise an all-important privilege—a privilege which, too often in past elections, has been ignored.

Indications from public response yesterday were that the drive had been immensely successful.

Last night there were only a few Monroe County residents who were not proudly displaying the red-white-and-blue badge of good citizenship.

Titusville For Ike

Titusville, Pa.—This city in Northwestern Pennsylvania continued in the Republican column yesterday, as it has done in the past five presidential elections, giving GOP nominee Dwight D. Eisenhower, 2,111 votes against 907 for Adlai E. Stevenson with returns complete.

Queen Elizabeth Addresses Parliament In Gold, Scarlet Pageantry, Backs Churchill

London (AP)—Queen Elizabeth II, glorious in gold and ermine, met her Parliament for the first time yesterday with a speech from the throne pledging closer British-American ties and full support of the United Nations effort in Korea.

In a setting of 16th century splendor, the young Queen outlined a score of points as the aims of her Conservative government in foreign and domestic affairs, including denationalization of Britain's steel and transport industries.

The royal household cavalry, in plumed helmets and cuirasses, had barely escorted her back to Buckingham Palace before Prime Minister Winston Churchill announced he will put a bill to de-

BALANCING HIS LEGS—heavily weighted with casts—Ed Rahn, Stroudsburg electrician and resident of 798 Bryant St. casts his ballot at the Fifth Ward polling place in South Stroudsburg. East Borough Considers Codifying Of All Ordinances, Accepts Manheim Resignation

A move to codify all borough ordinances was discussed last night by East Stroudsburg Borough Council. This step, recommended by the State's association of boroughs, would mean a complete revision of all borough ordinances, according to Solicitor Charles R. Bensinger Jr. It would eliminate duplication on the borough's books, get rid of overlapping ordinances, and supply court-tested ordinances commonly accepted as most useful in administering borough affairs.

139 Military Ballots Mailed To Servicemen

Of 139 military ballots mailed out to Monroe County men and women now in service, 161 had been returned yesterday.

The return may be even higher, for the ballots will continue to come in until 10 a.m. Nov. 14. All ballots must be in envelopes postmarked not later than Nov. 4 to be accepted, however.

All of the military ballots will be opened and counted Nov. 14.

Lions Devote Meeting To Club Matters

Stroudsburg Lions at their dinner meeting last night in the Penn-Stroud Hotel considered club problems and noted the second night of the prevailing attendance contest.

The club is divided into four teams commanded by Al DeRenzis, Sam Everitt, J. Kintz and Jim Somers.

This was the second week of the contest. Last week Everitt's team won by two votes but this week DeRenzis' team won by three points, giving him a net lead of one point for the contest to date.

The night was devoted to consideration of club problems, particularly that of attendance. Specialization on programs was advised and also advance notice in the bulletin of induction of new members are other features.

Lions Information Night, which has been featured occasionally in past years, was suggested for revival.

A formal financial report was submitted covering the last completed club year.

Greater attention to the welfare of new clubs sponsored by the Stroudsburg club, notably Tobyhanna and Milford, was advocated.

Man, 101, Votes In Massachusetts

Newburyport, Mass. (AP)—This town's oldest voter, 101-year-old Henry Bailey Little, stopped off on his way to work yesterday to ballot in his 21st presidential election.

President of the Newburyport Institute for Savings, Little first voted in 1872 when Ulysses S. Grant was re-elected.

Asked how he voted yesterday, Little said:

"Well I voted the straight Republican ticket all but one, and that one I didn't vote for." He wouldn't say who he slighted.

Increases GOP Margin

Bradford (AP)—The city of Bradford gave a 3,086 majority to the Republican ticket last night, compared to a 1,671 margin it returned for the GOP in the 1948 presidential election.

Lackawanna County Goes To Stevenson

Scranton (AP)—Democratic presidential candidate Adlai E. Stevenson carried Lackawanna County, a normally Democratic area in the hard coal region, by 3,342 votes, complete unofficial returns last night.

Four years ago, President Truman had an 18,200 plurality in Lackawanna.

The 1952 presidential vote was 64,500 for Stevenson to 61,158 for Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Good Weather Prevails Over Most Of Nation

By The Associated Press

Good weather prevailed over most of the nation yesterday as millions turned out for what may be the country's record election.

Only a few light scattered showers were reported in Western Texas, plus some scattered snow flurries in the New England mountain areas.

Elsewhere, generally fair weather prevailed, with no letup in dryness and humidity in sight. Timber areas in many parts of the country were still in danger of forest fires because of lack of moisture.

OPS Paves Way For Increase In Cigaret Prices

Washington (AP)—The government yesterday made possible a ceiling price hike ranging from one to three cents on a carton of cigarettes.

The Office of Price Stabilization said it does not expect the action to change the ceiling on an individual pack. Whether the ceiling on carton prices is raised depends on each wholesale or retail distributor.

What OPS did was amend its rules to allow distributors to include all the federal excise tax as part of their cost before applying their customary percentage markups to determine ceilings.

This tax went up 10 cents per carton a year ago. Until now the dealers have been permitted to pass along to their customers only the exact amount of the increase—not to use it as a basis for applying profit markups.

Former Vichy Aide Surrenders

Paris (AP)—Georges Hilaire, secretary general of the Interior Ministry in the Vichy Cabinet of Premier Pierre Laval during World War II, surrendered to police in Paris yesterday.

He had been sentenced in absentia in March, 1947, to five years imprisonment for collaborating with the German occupation forces. Police were unaware of his whereabouts until yesterday. He was later released on bail.

Vote Machines Pass Acid Test Here

The local election mechanism operated smoothly and quietly yesterday.

There were arguments, but none was taken into court.

The county's new voting machines functioned properly.

And despite the heavy turnout no one was reported frozen out by closing of the polls at 8 p.m.

That was the general election-day picture in the county yesterday.

The arguments, what there were of them aside from straight political arguments, were settled swiftly by Commissioners Amzi F. Altenose, W. Adolph Rake, Granville Shaffer, Solicitor James Kitson; and with the informal advice and opinions of President Judge Fred W. Davis.

None of the disputes was taken into the courtroom, though court remained open throughout the day.

Most of the problems were such routine things as persons living in one ward and registered in another . . . those who had moved and neglected to have their addresses changed . . . those who hadn't voted for two years, hadn't re-registered, and wanted to know why they couldn't vote . . . how far from the polling place must you be to carry on electioneering (10 feet) . . . and similar questions, which always arise at election time.

A large number of the questions were disposed of in the commissioners' office, which was kept fairly busy from 7 a.m. on. The telephone calls and personal visits by questioners to the office of Judge Davis also continued throughout the day with little interruption.

At the police level, not a black eye was reported . . . though there may have been some. Even traffic accidents were at a minimum, with not a scraped fender reported up to the time the polls were closed.

As for voting machines, the three stand-bys, Harry Walton, courthouse janitor, and John Wolfe and Roy Anderson, company representatives, had just three calls throughout the day.

None amounted to anything: one was a false alarm, telephoned in by a registrant in Middle Stroud district; another was temporary difficulty with a curtain on one booth in East Stroudsburg Fourth Ward; the third, which required no "fixing," was in answer to a woman at Stroudsburg Third Ward who claimed the machine didn't work. It turned out she had failed to depress the pointers or pull the party lever.

Lehigh County Gives 12,000 Lead To Ike

Allentown (AP)—Lehigh County became the first in Pennsylvania to report complete returns for the presidential election last night. The totals were:

Dwight D. Eisenhower 45,245.

Adlai E. Stevenson 33,316.

Four years ago, Republican Thomas E. Dewey also carried the county by 32,202 to 26,826.

Eisenhower's lead this year is 11,929.

Dewey's lead four years ago was 5,376.

Personal Income Up In September

Washington (AP)—The Commerce Department said yesterday personal income rose in September to an annual rate of 273 billion dollars, 3½ billions more than in August.

That was an annual rate of 16 billion dollars more than in September last year.

The report, from the department's office of business economics, said almost half the increase centered in wages and salaries paid by private industry. Increased income to proprietors, both business and agriculture, accounted for most of the remainder, the report said.

GOP Carries Bangor In All Contests

Bangor—Residents of this State Belt community gave Dwight D. Eisenhower their endorsement last night with 1,760 votes to 1,168 for his Democratic opponent, Adlai E. Stevenson.

The Republican trend was apparent in votes for other offices throughout the election.

The vote in other contests ran this way:

U. S. senator: Martin (R) — 1,637; Bard (D)—1,119; Judge of Supreme Court: Arnold (R)—1,624; Montgomery (D)—1,186.

State treasurer: Heyburn (R) — 1,628; Leader (D)—1,172; Auditor general: Barber (R)—1,633; Blatt (D)—1,159.

Representative in Congress: Craig (R)—1,448; Walter (D) — 1,423.

In the race for General Assembly, in which Northampton County elects three representatives, all three Republican candidates piled up imposing leads over the three Democratic opponents.

Clair H. Peilly, Bangor, had 1,864 votes; Joseph A. Ide, Easton, 1,435 and Henry E. Ragot, Easton, 1,397.

Neighboring State Belt community Roseto, normally Democratic voted for Stevenson by a margin of 423 to 364 for Eisenhower.

Dunlap May Head New Tax Region

Washington (AP)—John B. Dunlap declined yesterday to confirm or deny published reports he would work . . . moving from one borough resign as commissioner of internal revenue to become head of a Texas-Oklahoma tax collection district.

The Washington Evening Star said Dunlap was considering such action. Dunlap when asked about the Star's story, replied, "I have no comment."

The Texas-Oklahoma tax district is yet to be created, some time before Dec. 1. This is the deadline for completing reorganization of the revenue bureau into 16 new tax districts.

Cubic Content Is Key To Building Cost

The cubic content of a house is an important factor which every home-owner, present or prospective, should know. Rough estimates on construction costs are frequently figured on cubic content. Thus an individual knowing the cubic content of a building can determine the approximate expense of constructing it.

But how is the cubic content of a structure figured? This is the question put by J. B. L.

"I wish to obtain the number of cubic feet in a dwelling which is to have a full basement and a gable roof," he writes.

He can obtain this figure by multiplying the square-foot area of the ground floor by the distance from the top of the foundation footings to a point one-half way between the eaves and the ridge of the roof. The same formula may be followed in working out the cubage of any house. If, however, you contemplate using the cubic content for approximating the comparative cost of similar buildings, it is important to know if the volume of the basement and porch areas have been used as a whole or halved. Practice differs in this respect, and for comparative-cost purposes it is essential that the same method be used for both buildings.

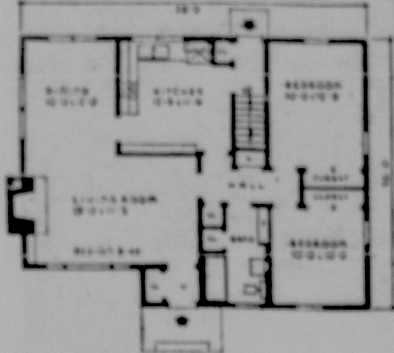

Regulating Humidity
Q. We have a new house with a high grade humidifier in connection with the furnace. Last winter it got somewhat out of hand, soaked wallpaper so that it came loose. They said we had "over-humidified." How can we control this feature?

L. P.
A. Install a "humidstat." This is a mechanism which can be set at any convenient point in the house and which is electrically connected to the humidifier to shut it off at any pre-determined relative humidity.

To be on the safe side, we advise that 35 per cent. relative humidity is high enough and that the indicator be set below this level in very cold weather. Shut it down whenever there is evidence of heavy condensation on windows.

Water Pipe Hammer
Q. Our house is four years old, well built and in perfect condition, as far as we know, but the water pipes vibrate noisily when first turned on in the morning. After the water has run for a time, the vibration is eliminated. How can we remedy this?

R. J. T.
A. The expansion chambers no longer contain air, and thus there is water hammer. Any competent plumber can adjust this, installing proper expansion chambers if they are absent or inadequate.

The Bryant has a compact plan which provides for two bedrooms and a dining room. In the Bryant's plan the living room and dining room are joined together to form one large L-shaped room. The Bryant's kitchen is entered from the basement stair hall. This hall is equipped with a convenient coat closet. Kitchen cabinets, in the Bryant's work room, are efficiently arranged to save steps. They include a high cabinet on the inside wall of the kitchen, under which there is ample space for a breakfast set. Closet space in the Bryant is also generous. Closet areas include a general closet and a linen closet in the hall. There is a towel cabinet and a linen closet in the bathroom. Each of the two bedrooms contains a roomy wardrobe. Construction of The Bryant is of frame with wood joists and partitions. Siding is used for the exterior walls. The roof is covered with asphalt shingles. Overall dimensions of the Bryant are 28 feet by 38 feet with a full basement. The house contains 1,010 square feet and 20,200 cubic feet. For information about The Bryant, write the Small House Planning Bureau, St. Cloud, Minn.

Replacing Flashing
Q. The metal around my chimney has rusted. In order to replace it, will I have to take the chimney down?

T. P.
A. Not necessarily. You can very probably take the joints where the flashing enters the brickwork and insert new flashing.

Radiator Efficiency
Q. My hot water radiators do not heat as they did at first. Why?

C. H. S.
A. Open the air valves at tops of radiators until water runs. If this is not sufficient, call a good heating contractor.

For Bathroom Walls
Q. I have seen large sheets of material used on bathroom walls that were not glass, marble or linoleum. I liked it and would like to use it in my new house. What is it?

M. M.
A. The material is one of the phenol-resins. Bakelite as used for pipe stems is one form of this material. Its use in architecture is widespread and is extending.

Paint on Bath Tub
Q. How can I remove paint stains and bits of plaster and cement from the bath tub in my new house?

G. P.
A. Plaster and cement should be removed with water or a non-abrasive cleaning compound. Avoid using a chisel or sharp instrument.

For the paint stains, apply turpentine vigorously. If this fails, use No. 000 sandpaper very lightly to avoid scratching the enamel and follow with another application of turpentine.

High Ceilings Add To Cost Of Heating

Ceiling heights in houses are not solely matters of taste but also involve the important factors of heating and ventilating.

Homes built during the Victorian period usually had elevations of 10 or 12 feet. These heights were thought to be of aid in keeping the rooms cool during hot weather. Actually, unless the warm air was carried off properly it only served to increase the temperatures by storing up masses of warm air.

Due To Mental Reaction
Any sensation of coolness noted was due mainly to the mental reaction of the residents, it is believed. Most experts now agree that any space more than 12 inches above the heads of windows, unless ventilated thoroughly, is of no value in cooling the room.

There is a trend to lower ceilings and adequate ventilation. When this principle of planning is followed construction costs are saved without loss of livability.

Since the area of the rooms with lower ceilings is less than that of those with greater elevations, heating costs are less.

Room's Size Affected By Paint Colors

When choosing paint colors for room decoration remember that certain ones tend to increase or diminish the size of the rooms in which they are used. For example the warm colors have a diminishing effect, particularly those containing the red tones which caused a sense of richness and warmth. Yellow, through warm and rich, does not necessarily decrease the size of the room—particularly if it is a light tint—but tends to diffuse and increase light.

Weatherstrip Door With Brass Sill

Although French doors are attractive and desirable, home owners sometimes find it difficult to weatherstrip them.

When French doors are in place and moisture penetration occurs at the sill, the doors may be made reasonably watertight and airtight through the use of a four-inch brass saddle or sill with an interlocking metal strip on the bottom of the doors.

Consider Paint's Reflective Value

The reflective value of paint should be considered when selecting your wall finish—in order to get the most from the lighting of your room. The reflection value of paint varies with color intensity and ranges from 75 to 85 per cent.

Use Built-In Antenna With Wall Plug

Good radio reception without the necessity for a maze of wires on the roof is possible through the use of a built-in antenna and wall plug. Not only is the roof rid of unsightly wires but window strips, insulators, and other bits of equipment which mar the appearance of the living room are eliminated.

A plate similar to those providing power outlets is available for the antenna and ground wire, and all that is necessary for good radio reception is to connect the radio with the poles on the plate.

for flat white to 40 to 55 per cent for such tints as light blue and apple green. Dark brown registers only 8 to 10 per cent. In other words, a color with only 10 per cent reflection reflects back only 10 per cent of the light thrown upon it.

Coadjutor Bishop To Be Elected

A coadjutor bishop for the Episcopal Diocese of Bethlehem, which embraces 27,000 communicants in 93 churches and missions in Monroe and 12 surrounding counties, will be elected at a special convention this weekend at the Cathedral of the Nativity, Bethlehem.

The clergyman to be selected will eventually succeed Rt. Rev. Frank W. Sterrett, bishop of the diocese, who expects to retire within the next four years. Meanwhile, the coadjutor bishop will assist Bishop Sterrett in diocesan matters.

The nominations will be made Friday night with the election scheduled for Saturday. Bishop Sterrett will preside at meetings on both days.

Bishop Sterrett, who is eligible to retire in January when he reaches the age of 68, can continue as the prelate until January, 1957, when it is compulsory for him to retire at the age of 72. Bishop Sterrett has not yet selected a date to retire.

The two-day convocation, to be attended by more than 300 clergymen and laymen with voting privileges, will open Friday at 6:30 p.m. with a dinner in Hotel Bethlehem.

Representing Christ Episcopal Church, Stroudsburg, will be the Rev. Thomas Shoemith, rector; E. M. Rahn, Herbert B. Crane, Dr. Joseph F. Noonan and Kenneth Lewis. Mr. Lewis an alternate, will attend the Saturday session as alternate for Mr. Rahn.

The first convention session will be at 8 p.m. Friday in the cathedral when nominations will be made by a committee and from the floor.

Christ Church has a total of four votes. Rev. Shoemith, Mr. Crane, Mr. Rahn and Dr. Noonan will be entitled to vote with Mr. Lewis serving as an alternate.

Saturday's meeting will open with the celebration of Holy Communion at 7:30 a.m. followed by breakfast in the parish house. The business session at which election will be held will start at 9:30 a.m.

Clergymen and laymen vote as two "orders," or two "houses." There must be a majority of each for the same nominee. Voting continues until a majority of both houses agree on a nominee.

The special election was ordered by Bishop Sterrett last May in his annual address at the 80th diocesan convention in Pottsville. At that time he also picked a committee

On Thursday Mrs. Paul Barry visited Mrs. Vida Siekler.

Mr. and Mrs. P. H. Hofstra made a business trip to New York on Friday.

Jesse Bishong called on Mr. and Mrs. Steward Detrick on Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Miller and Mrs. Vida Siekler motored to Allentown on Friday. En route home they visited the latter's brother, Earl Henry and family of Stockertown.

To select clergymen for consideration by the convention delegates for possible election as coadjutor bishop.

In recent weeks the committee announced names of five clergymen—three from within the diocese and two outside. They are:

Rev. Burke Rivers, rector St. Stephen's Church, Wilkes-Barre; Rev. Charles A. Martin, headmaster of St. Alban's School, Washington, D.C.; Rev. M. M. More, rector of Trinity Church, Bethlehem; Rev. W. Paul Thompson, rector of Christ Church, Reading, and Very Rev. Frederick J. Warnecke, dean of Trinity Cathedral, Newark, N.J.

There were indications yesterday several others will be nominated from the floor.

Bishop Sterrett has headed the Episcopal Diocese of Bethlehem for 25 years. He served as coadjutor bishop to Bishop Ethelbert Talbot. He succeeded Bishop Talbot when the latter died in 1928.

Contrary to popular belief, high buildings do not sway appreciably in high winds.

James Heiney, Formerly Of County, Dies

Funeral services will be held this afternoon in Allentown for James A. Heiney, former teacher in Monroe County schools, who died Saturday in Allentown Hospital after an illness of three years.

Mr. Heiney was employed in Allentown for 32 years and retired three years ago as a bookkeeper for an Allentown produce company.

A native of Weissport, he was the son of Nathan and Mary Ziegenfuss Heiney. He was a member of Salem Evangelical and Reformed Church and its Sunday School, Phil Sheridan Lodge, FPA and the Knights of Malta, all of Allentown.

Surviving are two daughters, Helen and Arlene, at home, a son Davis, of Emmaus and four grandchildren.

Besides his wife, Mrs. Amanda Gregory Heiney who died a year ago, he was preceded in death by two sons, Harold in 1938 and Albert in 1950.

Manufacturers Plan For Dinner
Monroe County Manufacturers Association will hold a dinner meeting at the Penn Stroud Hotel Monday, Nov. 10 at 6:30 p. m. Joseph H. Small, secretary announced last night.

Speaker for the occasion will be John H. Seaton who will outline advantages of membership in the manufacturers' organization.

Kresgeville

Mrs. W. E. Andrews

A large turnout of members at the bi-monthly meeting of the Auxiliary to the Sons of Union Veterans of the Civil War, were on hand to greet the Department President Mary Bender, of Milton and State Inspector Annie Meyers of Bethlehem. The visit by Mrs. Meyers was doubly significant because she helped the organizer, Minnie Kresge, to organize the local camp twenty-seven years ago. Visitors from Bethlehem, Stroudsburg and Milton camps were present and brought greetings from their respective camps. Alveta Strohl, the president of the local camp, presided at the meeting. After the meeting the members were treated to lunch, amidst beautiful Hallowe'en settings.

The students from grades one to six in the local school again put on a Hallowe'en parade and party in the local school auditorium on Friday afternoon with a larger attendance of mothers present than ever before, and the largest percentage of students masked and their naive way of dressing up in the keeping of the spirit of the Hallowe'en season, made it very difficult for the senior girls who acted as judges to select the prize winners. With a great deal of deliberation the following were selected as winners:

The prettiest, Jeanette Heiney; the funniest, Louella Ruhmet; the ugliest, Arlene Serfass; the cheapest costume, Clarence Hawk; the best dressed couple, Stanley Hawk and Romy Costenbader; the funniest couple, Mabel Burger and Shirley Burger; the best dressed person, Doretta Feller.

100-Year-Old Man Votes At Honesdale

Honesdale, Pa. — William F. Pearce, who is 100 years old and a lifelong Republican, cast his vote yesterday for Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower.

"I've been voting the Republican ticket ever since I cast my first ballot at the age of 21," he said.

A retired employee of the Delaware and Hudson Railroad, Pearce celebrated his 100th birthday last April 12. In an interview then, he said he was convinced Eisenhower was best for the presidency.

Meanwhile, Mrs. Harriet Stone,

There is a pleasant little puzzle that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to appeal to your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

Book Fair Dates Set By AAUW

The annual Book Fair sponsored by the Stroudsburg branch of the American Association of University Women is scheduled for November 20, 21 and 22 in the basement at Wyckoff-Sears store.

The Book Fair is sponsored by the fellowship committee of the branch for the purpose of raising money for the national AAUW Fellowship Fund to provide international grants and national and international fellowships to outstanding women scholars.

Miss Helen Brown is chairman of this year's fellowship committee. She is being assisted by a large committee with Mrs. Robert Haigh in charge of publicity; Mrs. Sumner Bosler of solicitations, and Mrs. J. Frank Grimm of transportation.

The committee is now working to collect a large number of books for sale at the Book Fair. They are especially interested in current fiction, biography, textbooks and reference works, as well as books that might come under the heading of rare books.

College students in increasing numbers have found at the annual Book Fair books for their own personal libraries. Children's books, too, have found a ready sale.

The committee is also considering incorporating a used record section with old sheet music as part of their offering.

Anyone having books to donate may call Mrs. Henry Slaboski, 1881; Mrs. J. Charles Smith, 233-W, or Mrs. Robert Haigh, 1087, who will arrange to have the books called for before the sale.

Gradale Has Party For Bangor Girls

Members of the Stroudsburg Gradale Sorority entertained the Bangor Gradales at a meeting on Monday night at the local YMCA. A program of music and dancing was featured.

Mrs. Beulah McConnell sang a group of three solos with Douglas Gordon as her accompanist. She sang "Spirit Flower" by Campbell Pipton; "From the Land of the Sky Blue Waters," Camden; and "Ghost Dance" by Cannon.

During the business meeting, the Gradale planned a rummage sale with November 14 and 15 as the tentative dates; and will again send a contribution for the Christmas party for the German Youth at Templehoff Air base.

Refreshments were served by Evelyn Berger, Gertrude Hippler, Fran Lawson, Betty Melvin, Dolores Millard, Dorothy Possinger and Mary Scheller.

Just Between Us

—By Bobby Westbrook

Well, that's that, and I didn't notice much difference in the atmosphere when the alarm clock went off, except it seemed to go off sooner this morning.

There were many pleasant moments in a very beautiful election day—including the sight of all those red, white and blue shields bedecking many a passerby.

Including the tales of how the Junior Women mixed the baby's formula between shifts, and bathed him while lunch was cooking, and turned the whole schedule topsy-turvy for this one day.

Including the story of Joan Sullivan's night ride from Boston to be home to cast her first ballot as a voter-comes-of-age.

The only thing that mystifies me is how my youngsters, who forget two minutes after I've reminded them of a household chore, could remember my promise of four years ago to take them to the inauguration if a Republican won.

Do you think such campaign promises hold true after four years or do they come under the statute of limitations? Or needn't I have worried?

—Listen To—

Family Shares Watch With Gen. Eisenhower

New York (AP)—Mamie Eisenhower, during the critical day that determined whether or not she is the nation's first lady-elect, spent her time playing with her three grandchildren, chatting with members of her immediate family and signing letters.

The attractive wife of the general, whose 56th birthday is just 10 days away, relaxed with her mother, Mrs. Gordon Doud, her sister, Mrs. Gordon Moore, of Washington, and her daughter-in-law, Barbara.

Her husband rested from campaign rigors at their Morningside Drive residence by turning to a particularly favorite hobby, oil painting.

Meanwhile, in preparation for the tense business of listening to election returns, the Eisenhower clan was gathering. Dr. and Mrs. Milton Eisenhower arrived early in the day from State College, Pa.

The Arthur Eisenhowers came in from Kansas City. Still another brother, Earl, of Charleroi, Pa., and his wife were expected in town during the afternoon.

Shortly after 9 a.m., Mrs. Moore—Mamie's sister who is known as "Mike"—drove to Highland Falls near West Point, and returned with the two older Eisenhower grandchildren, Dwight David II, 4, and Barbara Ann, 3. The children's mother, Barbara Eisenhower, voted at her Highland Falls home, and then came down to the general's residence afterward with the youngest child, Susan Elaine, 9 months.

The Earl Hallets Celebrate Anniversary

Cherry Lane—The wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Hallett was quietly observed at a family dinner at the home of her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Laesser, N. Fifth Street, on Sunday, Oct. 26. Mr. and Mrs. Ray Cortright, of Marshall's Creek, were also guests. Mrs. Cortright being another daughter.

Women In Government WSCS Theme

In the election eve meeting of the Women's Society of Christian Service of the Stroudsburg Methodist Church the members were given both theoretical and practical suggestions on the "Christian Women's Responsibility in Politics and Government."

That was the title of the talk given by Mrs. Claude Leister, state chairman of International Relations of the American Association of University Women. Mrs. Leister sketched in the history of woman's suffrage from the days of Susan B. Anthony and other pioneer women who devoted 50 years to the fight.

Now, Mrs. Leister, pointed out that although more women vote than men, there are very few women office holders. In voting, women tend to vote for men in preference to other women. Consequently any woman who wins public office must do so against overwhelming odds and through unquestionable qualifications.

After her talk, Mrs. Merlin Rutt introduced Ellenberger who demonstrated the method of voting on a sample voting machine so that members would feel confident in voting.

Extending their interests beyond the national elections, the group also discussed attending the UN Session as part of the trip to be sponsored by the AAUW.

Mrs. Ira LaBar led the opening devotions, and Miss Grace Dreher introduced Mrs. Leister. Mrs. Rutt presented a poem "God Give Us Men" by Josiah Holland which had been printed on a poster on an easel.

The dolls dressed in Puerto Rican costumes by Mrs. Melvin Fetherhoff were on display.

Miss Catherine Wolverton presided at the business meeting with the minutes read by Mrs. Randall Roberts in the absence of Mrs. Grace Dunkelberger who is ill.

Mrs. Roberts was appointed promotion secretary to fill the vacancy left by the resignation of Mrs. William Shearer. Mrs. Harold Stiff reported excellent response to pledges, and Miss Wolverton urged women to attend the missionary dinners to be held each Wednesday night in November and also asked every member to attend the World Community Day observance at the Zion Reformed Church this Friday night. Mrs. Roger Simpson reported an excellent attendance at the meeting on human rights.

Refreshments were served after the meeting by a committee of which Mrs. Fred Staples and Mrs. Hubert Tebbes were co-chairmen and which included Mrs. Joseph Wallace, Mrs. Rhoda Wagner, Mrs. Olive Werkhiser and Mrs. Harold Stiff.

The Record Social News

Jr. Women Take Time For Meeting, Too

The Junior Woman's Club, after a busy day of checking the polls to see that "I Have Voted" shields were on hand at all times for the voters mustered enough strength to turn out in large numbers for their regular meeting at the Stroud Community House.

Dr. Lee Donald Warren of the social studies department at East Stroudsburg State Teachers College was their speaker, and his topic was "International Relations."

Praising the United Nations as the most successful effort to date to establish peace, Dr. Warren had three main criticisms: The veto, the fact that national representatives seek their own nation's welfare above that of the whole, and that there are no prayers in UN sessions.

Americans need to go outside their country, he said, to see themselves as other nations see them, where our defects are more evident than our virtues.

In listing the three previous attempts at a working world order, Dr. Warren listed the Treaty of Utrecht in 1743; the Holy Alliance of 1816, and the League of Nations in 1919.

America's growth into a world power was outlined with Dr. Warren listing the principles of civil liberty and religious liberty and the blessings of unlimited resources and the enterprise to develop them as the biggest factors in that growth.

Dr. Warren also mentioned the influence of the Philippines where he taught for eight years as a laboratory for democracy and Christianity in the East, and predicted the battle of the future between the East and the West.

Dr. Warren was introduced by Mrs. John Sibley, program chairman.

During the business meeting Janice Muller, LaDora Bolcar, Mrs. John Bachman, Mrs. Ruth Boekenroeger and Dorothy Wilcox were named as new members.

Projects adopted by the seven project teams into which the club is divided to raise money for their welfare contributions were announced. The Peacocks will sell novelties, including Christmas napkins; the Beavers will sell wrapping paper; the Elephants plan to sponsor a series of card parties; the Peacocks will prepare a cookbook of members' recipes; the Hens have adopted turkeys as their project while the Snails will sponsor a rummage sale and the Mocking Birds plan a box social.

Refreshments were served after the meeting.

Poll takers who mourned the dis-interested "first voters" couldn't have voted Joan Sullivan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Sullivan, who drove 700 miles in order to cast her vote yesterday. A student at Boston University, Joan and a college friend left after classes on Monday night for the drive to Pompton Lakes and Stroudsburg to cast their respective votes.

Joan arrived home at 2:40 a.m., voted the first thing yesterday morning and then started the drive back to Boston for afternoon classes. She made no secret of her preference for "Roe."

Stevenson's Sister With Candidate

By Betty Prosser
Springfield, Ill. (AP)—Adlai Stevenson's sister waited last night at her brother's side—"listening, hoping, knowing," as she put it, that he would be the nation's next president and she would be the new first lady.

Mrs. Elizabeth Stevenson Ives, the governor's official hostess in Springfield and—perhaps soon—in Washington, was ready for a sleepless night at the governor's mansion, listening to returns.

Mrs. Ives, 55-year-old wife of Ernest L. Ives, a retired diplomat, would be Stevenson's official White House hostess because he is divorced. His former wife, Ellen Borden Stevenson, a Chicago socialite, divorced him in 1949 after 21 years of marriage, on grounds of incompatibility.

The governor's sister—who is 2½ years older than Stevenson—drove to Springfield this morning after casting a straight Democratic ballot in the polling place at a Bloomington, Ill., school which she and her brother attended as children.

Nominations Due For 1952 Freedom Foundations Awards

The details of "Freedom Foundation $100,000 Awards" were announced at the executive board meeting of the Woman's Club this week, and Mrs. George T. Robinson, president, prepared a digest for the information of other persons or organizations in the county who might wish to participate.

The 1952 Awards program is designed for Americans who help bring about a better understanding of freedom by the things they do, write or say. A minister's sermon, a club's community program, or an individual essay are among the means of expression covered in the awards. Any person is eligible to submit his own or any other person's or organization's program.

Nominations should be sent before Armistice Day, November 11 to Freedom Foundation, Valley Forge, Pa. The foundation, organized March, 1929, is non-profit, non-sectarian and non-political. Under its charter it exists:

"To Create and Build an understanding of the spirit and philosophy of the Constitution and Bill of Rights and of our 'bundle' of indivisible political and economic freedoms inherent in them."

"To Inspire love of freedom and to support the spiritual unity born of the belief that man is a dignified human being, created in the image of his Maker, and by that fact possessor of certain inalienable rights."

There are four categories under which nominations may be presented.

A general category with three principal awards of $1,000 and honor medals; fifty $100 and honor medals; 20 honor medals; and 15 certificates of merit.

The category of magazine articles, cartoons, college campus, community programs, editorials, essays, photos, addresses and sermons for which one principal $1,000 award is made; 20 $100 awards; 10 honor medals and 15 certificates of merit.

Another category will take in advertising campaigns, company employee publications, motion picture, radio and television programs for honor medal awards only.

The fourth category is open to every school, with the award an all-expense paid trip to Valley Forge pilgrimage and 150 Freedom Libraries and 250 George Washington honor medals.

Marks 79th Birthday

Mrs. Katurah McKean of East Broad St., East Stroudsburg, yesterday celebrated her 79th birthday with a family party at her home. Her children came from Philadelphia to help her celebrate.

Everyone, I suppose, has one day that stands out in his memory above all others; a day of which he dreams often through the years, longing to recapture some of the zest for living and peace of mind that was his in those few magic hours.

I must turn back the clock nearly 25 years to mine. It was winter, and my Girl Scout Troop had been invited by Miss Esther Fisher to come to Swiftwater and spend part of the day in a little cabin on her estate. I'm not sure how we got there—but I know that we glided in the preparation of our dinner, which consisted of baked beans out of a can and very badly burned bacon.

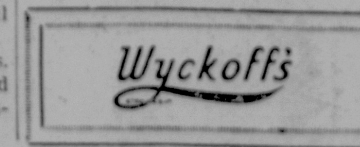

After eating, we bundled up and went back into the woods where fresh, white snow spread in a downy blanket everywhere, and the rhododendron leaves were cast down under a coating of ice. The streams were covered with crystal too, and way up above the trees was the most brilliant blue sky I have ever seen.

Just why I remember this day so well, is vague to me—except that it is probably the only time in my life I've been out in winter without turning into an icicle. Or, maybe, because I wanted so much to find a "puff ball," and, after a long search, came across one which I carried home tenderly in a box.

Some years ago, I walked into Wyckoff's Tea Room and saw, on the wall, a painting of MY day... as completely mine as anything shall ever be. There on the canvas were the same towering trees, the same crystal-encased stream, the same drooping rhododendron leaves. There was a price of $100 on the painting, and it was signed by Edna Palmer Engelhardt. At the time I didn't have $100. I've always regretted this. But, fortunately, I now work in the store where the picture is permanently located. It hangs at the moment in our credit office, where I can see it every day.

What is more, eleven additional Engelhardt paintings were placed on exhibit just yesterday in our Tea Room—and all of them are exquisite. These, too, are for sale, ranging in price from $75 to $350, and would be wonderful Christmas gifts for someone who loves real beauty. Such a gift is one that a family, devoted to each other and to the home in which they live, might combine to buy one they love.

Mrs. Engelhardt shows paintings of Spring, Fall and Winter in this collection. But I still favor ice-covered streams, and the green of rhododendron leaves muted by "the freeze." Mrs. Engelhardt is an artist whom I admire and understand, because she can capture the beauty which I remember, fondly and so well.

Life of Riley
By JIM RILEY
Sports Editor

Benny Jones, a graduate of Stroudsburg High School and East Stroudsburg State Teachers College, is going great guns in his third season as football coach at Brookville high school, having won six and lost only two games thus far this season. Brookville can win the Southern Conference crown for the second straight year with a victory over Reynoldsville on Saturday, on Brookville's home field. The host team has a record of four wins and one loss against league competition thus far, while Reynoldsville has four wins and one tie, without a setback, against the same opposition.

Jones, who is studying for his Doctor's Degree at New York University in his spare moments, is planning on seeing the Stroudsburg-East Stroudsburg grid battle at Memorial Stadium on Thanksgiving Day. John "Bubba" Phillips, recalled by the Detroit Tigers from Buffalo, at the close of the International League season, is scheduled to enter the Army on Tuesday, December 2. Phillips played right field for the Stroudsburg Pocomos, in the now defunct class "D" North Atlantic League, for part of the 1948 campaign.

Al "Goals" Godecke, former cager at East Stroudsburg State Teachers College and with at least one other team in the Monroe County area, is now teaching and coaching at the Freeland Mining Mechanical Institute. Al's teaching duties include general science, while the coaching job covers both basketball and baseball. Jim Rupp, a promising end on the ESSTC grid machine a couple of years ago, prior to an automobile accident, is coaching at Marlboro, Md. High. Jim was also a member of the Normal Hill wrestling squad for two seasons.

Don Delp, a member of Coach Howard DeNike's soccer squad a couple of years ago is coaching at Laureldale, Pa. High. Reports that Mike Palmisano, promising East Stroudsburg High football lineman, would move to distant parts of the nation have been branded as false. The freshman griddler has shown signs of developing into a football star in future years. Coach Gene Martin seemed to be more upset over last Saturday's defeat at the hands of Cortland than at anytime since this reporter has covered the football beat on Normal Hill.

Nazareth and Copley are the only schools that still string along with three football officials, although the Lehigh-Northampton League voted to adopt the four-official ticket at the end of the 1951 campaign. Both schools named in the first line of this paragraph insist on going along with the old system of referee, umpire and head linesman, while the other members of the circuit had added the field judge to the mounting number of men in striped shirts.

If the soccer Warriors of ESSTC should take the measure of Lafayette today, Saturday's annual clash with Lock Haven would probably amount to the most important soccer game of the season for the Normal Hill booters. The charges of Coach DeNike annually field a strong soccer squad, but for the past four years the Bald Eagles of Lock Haven have defeated ESSTC and ruined fine seasons for the East Stroudsburg team. However, the Warriors are hopeful of halting the Lock Haven streak this season, as Saturday's tussle is listed for the Normal Hill field.

Bangor's wrestling program, at the Blue Valley Farm Show building tomorrow, is drawing down plenty of interest from all followers of the grunt-and-groan circus in the Slate Belt and surrounding areas. The Bangor Exchange Club has a fine slate of grapplers on 'he agenda and it looks like a fine show for all those who like wrestling. Bob Nauman, former outstanding catcher in Monroe County, has returned to the area after working in Norristown and Quakertown and has bought a home in East Stroudsburg.

Stroudsburg High loses only three members of its present football team next season. Fullback Bill Bailey and end Al Adelman, who is also captain of the present edition of the Mountaineers, will graduate in June. Carl Hagerty, defensive lineman, will also be missing from next year's team. However, the back bone should be there and the Mountaineers appear headed to a fine campaign. Shippensburg is currently leading the Pennsylvania State Teachers College Football Conference with an undefeated slate. However, the Warriors of ESSTC gave Shippensburg its toughest game to date.

The fact that Fred Storch, Catasquiqua football coach, has resigned his position to take a position at the Whitehall Cement Co., was common gossip at last Friday's tussle between the Rough Riders and Mountaineers at Gordon Giffels field. Even now applications are being received for the position of head grid mentor. Storch was on the job at Caty for two campaigns.

Orange, Sugar Bowls Seek Unbeaten Georgia Tech Squad

Atlanta, (AP)—"Well, gentlemen, what am I bid? In tickets, that is, not dollars."

Briefly put, that's the enviable position in which Georgia Tech Coach Bobby Dodd found himself yesterday as Orange and Sugar Bowl officials clamor for the services of his unbeaten, untied team.

Bushkill To Hold Meeting

Bushkill — An important business meeting of the Bushkill entry in the Pocono Mountains Baseball League will be held here at "Rick" DePue's Restaurant today, it was announced last night by Danny Eppley, manager of the Bushkill club.

The meeting is scheduled to take place at 7:30 p.m.

Eppley stated that the meeting has been called to clean up old business and to discuss the Pocono Mountains League banquet to be held at the Bartonsville Hotel on Tuesday, November 18.

Bushkill finished second in the regular 1952 season flag race and then won the post-season playoff honors, defeating two foes in four straight games.

Football Squad Receives Shots

Binghamton, N. Y. (AP) — All 30 members of the Binghamton High School football squad yesterday were given injections of gamma globulin, a new drug used to combat infantile paralysis infection.

Injection

Murray Heller, 17-year-old guard on the team is receiving treatment for polio in the Binghamton City Hospital. He was admitted Thursday. His condition yesterday was reported "fair."

The mass injection was administered by Dr. Louis R. Borelli, team physician.

Rupp To Stay At Kentucky's Court Helm

Lexington, Ky. —The baron of basketball will remain at the helm of Kentucky's cage fortunes despite the fact that he knowingly used ineligible players.

This fact was made clear yesterday by Dr. Leo M. Chamberlain, vice president of the university, when he flatly told reporters that the school has no intention of firing veteran coach Adolph Rupp.

Members of the team, ranked number three in the nation in the Associated Press poll, eliminated the Cotton Bowl from consideration. They voted to leave the final choice between the Sugar and Orange Bowls to their coach, although the balloting slightly favored the Sugar.

"The boys were pretty evenly divided," Dodd said. "What I'm concerned with more than anything else is the ticket allotment. I'd hate to agree to go to either bowl and then have Georgia Tech's friends hop all over me because they couldn't get tickets to the game."

Neither bowl has extended a bid yet, Dodd said, "And I don't want them to—not until I can accept."

Although action on the recommendation could not come until the association's convention in January, President Herman L. Donovan Monday announced the school would not appeal and was cancelling its entire 21-game 1952-53 intercollegiate basketball schedule.

The NCAA action actually meant a $100,000 "fine" or more to Kentucky's athletic treasury.

Rupp's salary will continue, to be paid from available athletic funds.

Villanova Leads In Lambert Race

New York (AP) — Penn State defeated Pennsylvania last Saturday and as a result almost overtook Villanova in the race for the Lambert Trophy. The trophy goes annually to the college football team voted the best in the east by newsmen and broadcasters.

Rankings

In the poll announced yesterday, unbeaten but tied Villanova leads with a rating of 87.5. Penn State is second at 87.1 and Penn third with 86.8.

Three Unbeaten Teams Listed

Johnstown, Pa. (AP) — The State Teachers College Football Conference shows three undefeated teams yesterday with Shippensburg leading the pack on the basis of a 4-0 record and 163 points.

Scores

West Chester and Clarion also remain undefeated in three starts with 160 and 145 points respectively.

Boros Honored As Top Pro

Chicago, (AP) — Sweet-swinging Julius Boros, a play-for-play shooter only three years, yesterday was acclaimed the "Professional Golfer of the Year."

Boros, 32-year-old native of Hungary, received a whopping vote of 314 ballots against only 26 for runner-up Sammy Snead, in the Professional Golfers' Association annual poll for the honor.

Quick Style

Boros, whose quick style of play is reminiscent of Gene Sarazen, captured the National Open Championship at Dallas, Tex., last June for his first major tournament victory.

The big plum was the $25,000 first prize in the "World Championship" at Tam O'Shanter here in August.

Cards Claim Tampering By Browns

New York (AP) — Fred Saigh, president of the St. Louis Cardinals said yesterday Harry "The Cat" Brecheen, who last week signed as a player-coach with the neighboring Browns, never had been given his release by the Cardinals.

In filing "tampering" charges against the Browns with Commissioner Ford Frick, Saigh referred to rule three, article six, which reads "There shall be no negotiations between any player and any club other than the club with which he is under contract, or by which he is reserved, unless his club, in writing, authorized such negotiations."

"We never gave Brecheen such authorization," Saigh told the Associated Press by telephone. "All we did was ask waivers on Brecheen as a forerunner to making him a coach of the Cards. Under the rules, in order to take a player off the active list, waivers must first be requested on the player."

"Brecheen knew of our intention. In fact, it met with his wholehearted approval, although upon his insistence, we assured him if he showed during spring training he could still pitch winning ball, he was to be reinstated as a player and be compensated accordingly. We would never have asked waivers on him had we known he was going to sign with another club."

No Claim

No club claimed Brecheen the first time waivers were asked on the 28-year-old southpaw, according to Saigh, and a coach's contract was drawn up for $10,000 and given to him. Pittsburgh claimed him on the second waiver request but Brecheen refused to join the Pirates. As a 10-year man, he has the right of refusal.

"After the six-day waiver period expired and during the five days' grace period immediately following," said Saigh, "The Browns got in touch with him and offered him a flattering contract. I'm not against any player bettering himself, and the Cards would be the last to stand in Harry's way. But I question the moral aspects of his going to another club."

"As late as October 30 Harry called me and assured me he was still interested in remaining with the Cards. I trusted his word that he was sincere when he said he would take the coaching job."

Owner Bill Veech of the Browns scoffed at Saigh's "tampering" charges. "It's just a matter of the Cards wanting to keep Brecheen for a lot less money than he could make. We did not approach or talk with Brecheen until after his waivers had expired and he was thus declared a free agent."

Title Ambitions At Stake In Bangor's Wrestling Program

Bangor—World title ambitions of a handsome Italian youth and renewal of one of the bitterest of pro mat rivalries are involved in tomorrow night's introduction of professional wrestling to the Slate Belt at the Bangor Exchange Club's Blue Valley Auditorium, between Bangor and Pen Argyl.

Snarely Knows Nothing Of Ouster Talk

Chapel Hill, N.C. (AP)—The men closest to the situation professed to know nothing about the matter, but the rumor mill continued to buzz anew yesterday with reports that Carl Snarely was on his way out as head football coach of the victory-starved University of North Carolina team.

A year ago Snarely was said to be headed away from the Chapel Hill school, but he stayed on and George Barclay was brought down from his head coaching post at Washington and Lee to help install the split-T system in a radical departure from Snarely's long-favored single wing style.

Speaking of a report from Knoxville, Tenn., that he will be released at the end of the season, Snarely said yesterday:

Reply

"All I know is what I read in the papers. You always hear those reports when you have a losing team. I have nothing to say on the matter. Right now I am concerned only in preparing the team for Saturday's game at Chapel Hill with Virginia."

C. P. "Chuck" Erickson, university director of athletics, said that the reported ouster was new to him. "The Athletic Council hasn't met since early last month," he said, adding, "I know of no meeting of school officials at which such a thing would have been discussed."

Now, as a year ago, reports persisted that Jim Tatum, coach of Maryland's Sugar Bowl champions, is being considered by school officials as a replacement for Snarely under whom Tatum played at North Carolina and coached at Cornell.

Warriors In Search Of Fourth Victory

East Stroudsburg State Teachers College, in quest of another undefeated soccer campaign, will be searching for victory number four today, when the Warriors tangle with Lafayette, on the Leopards' home field in Easton. The game is scheduled to begin at 3 p.m.

The ESSTC pupils of Coach Howard DeNike are scheduled to depart from Normal Hill at 12:45 p. m., in ample time to prepare for a Lafayette foe that is working under a new coach this season.

Lafayette took the measure of Muhlenberg last Saturday, 2-1, and reportedly has a record of three victories and the same number of setbacks at the present time.

The Leopards play an impressive 12-game schedule and ESSTC is the only state teachers college on the 1952 slate.

DeNike announced last night that his starting array would probably be the same as the one that answered the opening whistle against Ithaca College last Saturday.

Lineup

This means that reliable Bill Schaeffer will be back in the goal position, while Don Bachtel is at right fullback; Fred Cahres, left fullback; John Rhen, right half; Joe Maioriello, center half; Lyle Krall, left half, Hobart "Hobe" Hutchins, outside right; Bob Hartman, inside right; Tom Foley, center forward; Al Shollenberger, inside left, and Carson Deffenbaugh, outside left.

Other members of the ESSTC squad who may see action today are Bill Maioriello, Enoch Hartland, Tom Roberts, Don Kling, Lee Hill, Jack Blair, Jake Wentzel, Craig Leatherman, Dick MacDonald, Tony Bach and Ted Evanish.

The Warriors defeated Lafayette last season, 4-0, on the Normal Hill field.

ESSTC plays host to troublesome Lock Haven on Saturday, on the ESSTC field. Lock Haven has defeated the measure of Wilkes College, Trenton State Teachers and Ithaca thus far this season and battled highly regarded West Chester to a 1-1 deadlock.

Berrios Wins Decision

White Plains, N. Y. (AP) — Miguel Berrios, 127 1/2, Puerto Rico, won a unanimous eight-round decision over Earl Ehlton, 125, Philadelphia, in the feature bout at the Westchester County Center last night.

Michigan State Tops In Total Offense Figures

New York (AP) — Memo to Coach Frank Leahy: Don't be alarmed because Oklahoma, the team your Notre Dame plays Saturday, has averaged 450.8 yards gained a game. That's only the second best major college mark. The best, 455.2, belongs to Michigan State and you don't have to play them until next week.

Maybe the Irish do have a right to worry, because the unbeaten-but-tied Sooners are number one in the nation in rushing, with 255.3 yards a game, and also lead in scoring with 251 points, according to statistics released yesterday by the NCAA Service Bureau. Since its opening-game tie with Colorado, Oklahoma has scored more than 40 points in each of its five victories.

Passes Fail

Leahy won't have to worry about the country's top passing team this week but Ed Danowski, who coaches it, will, Fordham, although it has averaged 238.3 yards a game through the air, has lost all four of its starts. Meanwhile, on the Pacific Coast, there will be a classic hattie between ground and air attacks, California, second to Oklahoma in rushing with a 287.7 per-game average, takes on Washington, which has clicked off 199.7 yards passing for runner-up honors behind Fordham.

In seven games, Washington has thrown and completed more passes, and gained more yards, than any major team in the land while California, in the same number of contests, is the only team with more than 2,000 rushing yards to its credit, 2,014. Washington has completed 111 out of 218 for 1,308 yards.

SHOOT WITH BOTH EYES OPEN.....

EVERYONE HAS A "MASTER EYE" THAT DOMINATES THE OTHER EYE. IT'S USUALLY THE RIGHT EYE WITH RIGHT-HANDED PEOPLE AND LEFT EYE WITH LEFT-HANDERS. YET IT'S NATURAL TO SEE BEST WITH BOTH EYES AT ONCE.

BEGINNERS NORMALLY SQUINT ONE EYE CLOSED IN SIGHTING DOWN A GUN-BARREL, HANDICAPPING THEMSELVES WITH THE STRAIN AND REDUCING FULL VISION.

PROVE IT TO YOURSELF THIS: POINT YOUR FINGER AT AN OBJECT ACROSS THE ROOM WITH BOTH EYES OPEN. THEN CLOSE ONE EYE AT A TIME. THE "MASTER EYE" RETAINS THE ALIGNMENT BUT THE FINGER JUMPS AWAY AS THE OTHER EYE IS USED ALONE.

WITH PRACTICE YOU'LL SIGHT FASTER AND BEST WITH BOTH EYES.

Turpin Decides To Keep Title

London (AP) — Randy Turpin has changed his mind—for the time being—about surrendering his European middleweight boxing championship.

His manager, George Middleton, said yesterday the British Boxing Board of Control had prevailed upon Randy to keep the crown.

Turpin announced 10 days ago he would give up the title because he did not want to be bothered defending it while he had prospects of a world title match.

Nomination

The European boxing union had nominated Frenchman Jacques Royer-Creey to fight Turpin for the European championship.

Turpin wants a third world title bout against Middleweight Champion Sugar Ray Robinson.

Stranahan Released On Bail

Description

Miss Buchelle, who is 24, and described as a stunning beauty, filed an affidavit last Wednesday in domestic relations court charging Stranahan is the father of a daughter born to her last April 11. Stranahan and his attorney, Dan McCullough, said they had no statement to make.

Stranahan, who is 30, has won numerous golf titles in the United States and abroad.

The American golf ace is highly regarded in all sections of the world.

JEHOVAH'S WITNESSES

Pennsylvania Circuit Number Two

October 15th, 1952

Dear Friend,

Multitudes today are held in grip of fear because of the spread of pestilence, hatred, greed, Godless Communism and a possible third world war which would unleash atomic power, hydrogen and germ warfare against the people of all nations.

Because of the threatened situation many questions arise in the minds of honest people as to God's purposes. Why are these conditions existing? What is it all leading to? In spite of so much talk about freedom, why does it seem to be slipping away from the grasp of not only the individual but also the nations as a whole? These and many other important questions require an answer—an answer which will bring comfort and hope to those desiring to see righteousness and peace reign here on earth.

The only truthful and reliable source for the answers is the Word of God and Jehovah's witnesses are devoting all their available time to bringing this Bible information to the people. To this end Jehovah's witnesses are holding a three-day Christian assembly at the Ritz-Charlton Hall, 439 N. Center Street, Pottsville, Pa., November 7th, 8th and 9th, 1952.

Sessions will open on Friday evening at 7 p.m. as well as Saturday morning, afternoon and evening; Sunday morning at 9 a.m. a baptismal service will be held.

The highlight of the week-end assembly is the public lecture, "WHERE IS THIS WORLD HEADING?" to be delivered by Mr. S. P. Kraker, a representative of the Watchtower Society, on Sunday, November 9th at 3 p.m. You are cordially invited to attend all the sessions especially the public lecture.

We will be looking forward to seeing you and your friends. All sessions are free.

Sincerely yours,

JEHOVAH'S WITNESSES
